

"Our people need to get their heads in the Word—
first thing in the morning."
Dr. Victor Paul Wierwille

"The growth of the Word is the first priority in God's sight. God's emphasis in Acts is on His Word."

Rev. L. Craig Martindale

"The meaning of God's Word is equal to God's will. What this means is that what He says will come to pass. Some of the things He says will take a longer time--according to our standards. God limits Himself in this administration to you and me to get the Word out...He limits himself to our believing. How long it takes the Word to get out across the world, and the body of Christ to be complete, depends on our believing."

Rev. Gary Curtis

"The world wants everyone to look alike. There's no individuality because they are always trying to identify with something or someone. We are the only true individuals because we identify with Christ. It sets us free to be ourselves."

Sheryl Haggard

Bells of freedom
Ring amidst the golding dawn
And pierce the silence
Like the light shafts across the countryside.
Who walked to set us free
But the son of God,
Against an enemy
We could not see.
Let us dwell in this freedom
And bask
In the warmth of God's love
As we walk forward
Proclaiming declarations of liberty.
Michael Pais, Seventh Corps

"It is the hope of the return that allows men and women to go on, in spite of the negative situations and spiritual battles."
Dr. Victor Paul Wierwille

"We are judged by what we finish--not what we start."
Howard Allen

"For healing to take place, the men of God have to get right in where the people are. If the leadership does not stand, the wholeness of God's people goes down the drain."
Rev. L. Craig Martindale

"When your desire to do becomes greater than your biggest fear, you are going places."
Sandy Ferguson, Seventh Corps

"Remember, you are unique. Men and women in the world compete because they don't know that they are unique. You are a treasure in an earthen vessel. Treat yourself like that. You have the right to adore yourself."
Sheryl Haggard

WORD

WORK

"Whatever it takes to move
The Word--hold 'er high!
Thickets of absurdities,
Windstorms of the mundane;
All we count but loss for Truth and life on a God-given plane."
Island Weiss, Seventh Corps

LEADERSHIP IN THOUGHT

"All I'd been taught in history class and Sunday School was that Christians were defeated, Christians were martyrs--and it made me sick. When I first heard Romans 8:37, it made me jump up and down inside. We see in history how some men of God were not more than conquerors. But whenever the Word is held forth, the believers are more than conquerors. That's the profit of looking back in history." Gail Walker, Sixth Corps

"When you have Christ in you, you have courage. Not once in the church epistles are we told to have courage. Why? Because we have it." Tom Jenkinson, Sixth Corps

EARLY CHURCH HISTORY QUIZ

"What did Martin Luther say was for the birds? The Diet of Worms!

What did Nero use to light his castle? Roman Candles!"
Bill Papworth, Seventh Corps

"If you take a look at the Protestant Reformation, and its continuation into America, the greatest peak of the reformation is now; the reformers are us. Our reformation is different, though. We don't attack the Pope; we attack the Adversary. We don't attack the Roman Catholic tradition; we attack all tradition. We are in a reformation that can occur without one shot fired because we know it is a spiritual fight. We are the heart of the move of God's Word; of greater caliber than Luther, Zwingli, Calvin or Wycliffe. Why? Because we operate all nine of the manifestations."

Tom Jenkinson, Sixth Corp

"You want to do something perfect? Speak in tongues."
Jo Stafford, Fifth Corps

"When your heart becomes as God's heart, your first thought will always be revelation."
Mike Van Dyke, Seventh Corps

"We want to train people with physical stamina to carry on spiritual work with mental flexibility."
Rev. L. Craig Martindale

"God wants us to praise him and worship him. That's why he gave us the worship manifestations." Rev. Gary Curtis

"The life they lived in the First Century church, we live. The experience they experienced, we experience. It's the same household. It has not changed. That's Christianity...if we do not live it, you might as well forget about Christianity on this planet, because we are the heart of Christianity."

Charles Henry Rix, Fifth Corps

Rev. L. Craig Martindale:

"Acts 19:20 is the height of the Word's expansion--the Golden Age of the Church. It is the height in quality and quantity and impact on the world.

"Preaching is a public exposé of God's power within.

"Wholeness comes by touching the lives of them that are whole.

"For us, it should no longer be a question of whether or not we are going to walk, but to what depth are we going to do it?

"Like the rock climber who is halfway up a cliff, I have committed myself to the moves that are ahead of me."
