

The Rightly Divided Word of Truth....

Heartbeat Bulletin

Vol. 3 No. 27 Apr. 19, 1977

"Anyone who has accuracy is a candidate for responsibility."

Dr. Victor Paul Wierwille

"We work the Word of God diligently to know exactly what it says; because these words, these marks on paper, must line up perfectly with the Spirit of God. Words, by themselves, are nothing. But in their context, in their whole, we have God's Word; we have God's will."

Rev. Gary Curtis

"Jesus Christ is our path into God's heart. He is the light that points the way. He is exact and detailed in his directions."

Sue Washington, Fifth Corps

Temperance Longsuffering Meekness Faith

"The how of building mental stamina in your life lies in thankfulness, controlled thought and rejoicing. Endurance doesn't have to be a drudge."

Nancy Cezario, Fifth Corps

"We'd rather be taken advantage of ten times than to take advantage of another once."

H. E. Wierwille

"If you don't have something good to say about your brother or sister, don't say anything. If someone says something bad about your brother or sister, you shut them up! That's being honest!"

Howard Allen

"The value of an item is determined by its cost. We cost God His only begotten Son. How valuable are we?"

Rev. John Lynn

"We should never underestimate our study and walk on the Word. We're dealing with people's eternal lives. Because we are the best, we are in demand."

Paul Brautigam, Fifth Corps

LOVE JOY Gentleness Goodness Peace

"A really good memory is fine, but the ability to forget is a real test of greatness. The things we often remember are the things we should forget."

Howard Allen

"I love every minute of life as long as I look at that perfect man, Jesus Christ, who every minute of his life, loved."

Mary Barnhart, Seventh Corps

"Do you know why you bring so much pressure upon yourself? Because you don't freely apply knowledge."

Donnie Fugit, Fifth Corps

"Confess that you have commitment. Read the Word and wind yourself up and believe it."

Donna Martindale

Jesus Christ to His Little Brother

"Hey, little brother, it's all right
They shoved you down and jeered at you
But I'll wipe the dust off your back
And wipe the tears off your face
I'll console and comfort you
And tell you, 'You're the best.'

Oh, little brother, I went through that for you
So that now they can't get to you
I'll walk with you, only stay with me.

Remember that Father stood by me
When they jeered at me on that tree.

They will jeer at you, too
Even laugh you to scorn
But you keep walking on
Our God will fight for us.

No one will touch you
No one will hurt you
Because you're my Father's son
And you're my little brother."

"Jesus was obedient to death so that we could be obedient to life."

Rev. John Lynn

"Jesus Christ said his words were spirit and they were life. They were not just reverberations in the air. They carried the impulse of life--the life of God."

Rev. Gary Curtis
