"We are men and women who refuse to limit the power of God in us because we desire to bring to the world the knowledge of the living Christ."

Studies in Abundant Living
Vol. 1, page 21

"Those 4 Ds sure hold true! If I don't make the decision--no desire, no details, no deliverance."

Richard Small, Sixth Corps

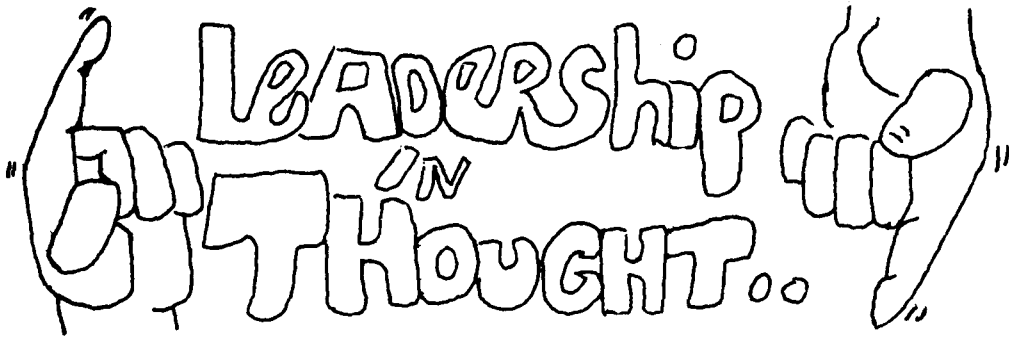

"Your abilities are brought to life in the context of the household effort."

Rev. L. Craig Martindale

I have a list of statements that I tell myself. So far, there are five:

1. Change your mind
2. Shut your mouth
3. Avoid routine
4. Laugh
5. Life is great

And, if I don't believe number five, I go back to number one!

"The Corps needs to be honest with one another and to deal with each other with great respect. You have some idea of what each other has stood through and experienced. It doesn't matter if you've never met before in your life.

"We work hard, play hard, argue hard, forgive hard; we live life to all of its intensity.

"Our life is never practice; it's always game time. It's never rehearsal, always show time. Yet, our life is always preparation for bigger shows."

Rev. L. Craig Martindale

"You need a few mountain-top experiences before you can minister in the valley of need...If you wait for thanks before you teach again, you'll rot in your grave. You teach because it's God's will and calling, not for men's acclaim."

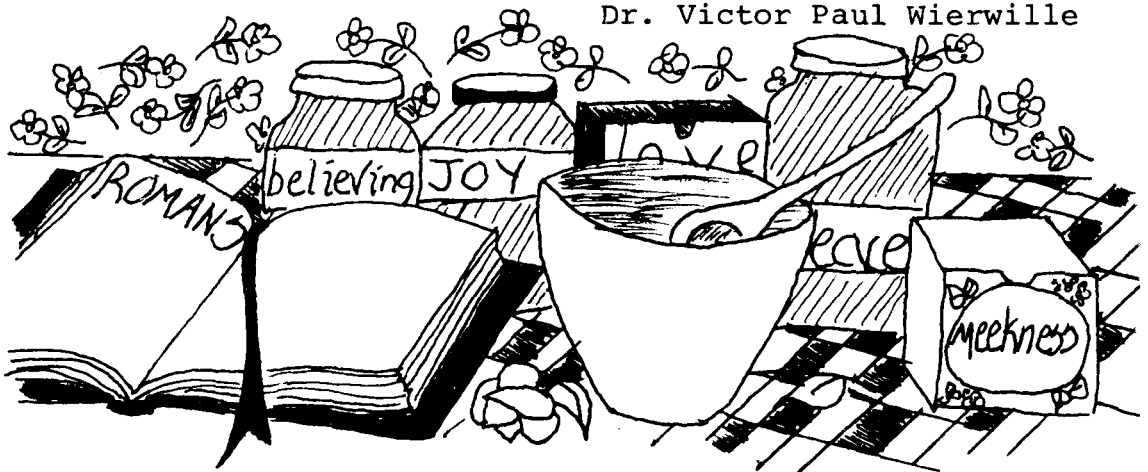

Dr. Victor Paul Wierwille

"If you were to look at the Word as a recipe book, our specialty as chefs should be the epistles."

Rev. Lonnell Johnson

"Because all things are under your feet, you control exactly what you want to control by your believing."

Dr. Victor Paul Wierwille

"Blessed are those who can give without remembering and receive without forgetting."

Submitted by Nancy Meyer, Seventh Corps

"Light is not the absence of darkness; darkness is the absence of light."

Tommy Whalen, Seventh Corps

"When General Caballero was making his presentation to Rev. Martindale, I watched their 'mediator' (Rev. Curtis) and thought, 'How typical: It is always man's words (in this case, language differences) that separate men; and it is only God's words that bring men together.'"

Rosann Holdren, Fifth Corps

Good News Day

"It's a good news day
No blues day
New shoes,
No way to lose day
What a good news day!

It's a great day
I can't wait day
Lift your voice,
Let's rejoice day
My Lord, a good news day!

It's a pay day
Goin' my way day
No nay--all yea,
What you say day
Such a good news day!

It's a live-it-up day
Overflowin' cup day
It's a bright and bubbly,
Doubly lovely
Sho 'nuff good news day!"

Rev. Lonnell E. Johnson
(written by him on his birthday)
