The Mystery Symphony

To the untrained ear
the piano's voice
sounds melody
when it's only noise.

The Master hears,
the flaw perceives,
with skillful help
He will bring release.

For the melody of the gospel must not be bound
by untuned strings
and dissonant sounds.

So we, as the strings
each with our tone
cry for the Master
for His tuning alone.

And He, in His kindness with tender, knowing touch tempers us together because He loves us so much.

Then the melody played on hearts so in tune
brings harmonies out
as the music fills the room.

And the symphony sounds to each hungry soul
that in Christ we're one body in Christ we are whole!
