"To be able to give and to receive unreservedly is a man's joy, the joy of giving what God has freely given. It's a walk, a lifetime of learning. First comes the blade, then the ear, finally the full corn in the ear. We must never get discouraged with ourselves, but instead be totally thankful--thankful for the number of steps behind, thankful for the one ahead; for if we are not moving ahead, we are dying. There really is no logical choice. We know too much not to walk worthy of our vocation. We can always fight one more round, for in our gloves are the hands of God." --Tim Stiles

"One of the greatest things that happened was when Rev. Martindale said we could remember the past." --Brenda Haley

"The key to life is to see it through the beauty and simplicity of God's Word." --LuAnn Stoner

"The Christian walk is summed up in the segment where Dr. Wierwille is leading everyone into speaking in tongues. 'Wonderful, wonderful; just keep right on breathing; that's it, just let it flow; keep right on speaking the wonderful works of God--isn't God good?'" --Gail Walker

"Take a look at where you are right now." --David Dougherty

"Responsibility is responding to an ability God has already put within us." --Mary Clapp

"All through time it's been the stand of one man." --Brenda Haley

Your mind was made to hold the Word
Your body was formed to move the Word.

--Dale Sides

"Your body makes a wonderful servant but a lousy master."

--Allen Mizer

"We're sculpturing our minds according to the Christ in us."

--James Carroll

"I want to bring out, more than anything, that the real me is Christ in me."

--Steve Kunkle

"What do we claim? Our sonship rights are righteousness, sanctification, justification, redemption, and the ministry of reconciliation. Condemnation is not numbered among them. We have no right to condemn ourselves."--Marcia

"God can't pour His heart out to you until you melt it."

Francis

As Unto the Lord

What would you give to wash the Lord's feet,
To serve Him some simple bread?
Wouldn't you thrill to the sound of His step,
And by His example be led?
I know you would love to sit by His side,
To tenderly hold to His hand.
To hear God's Word pour forth from His lips
To hear it and understand.
Open your eyes, stand up and see
Don't let the dark seal your sight.
Wherever a son of God there stands,
Christ stands with all of His might.
I know you would serve the Lord heartily
And for Him just anything do.
Wake up your mind, Christ lives, He is real
He's your brother that's right next to you.
"If He were here now, I'd give Him my all,
My life and my strength," so you say.
His Body's so sweet, we're His hands and His feet.
"Let's give all to each other today.
And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as to the Lord, and not unto men.

Colossians 3:23

Randy Blair

"If we are honest, open, loving, kind and concerned, then all we have to do is ask, and it shall be given unto us."

"We'll always be following some type of leader. Just make up your mind who you're going to follow."
Dr. Wierwille

"You can't be afraid to open your heart to people, because as a leader, most of your life is going to be lived in a fishbowl."

"You do not learn by doubting and having regrets. You learn by making decisions and moving ahead full speed on those decisions."

"What's there to be afraid of? Jesus Christ said He overcame the world."

"Let go and let God...just let it flow. Stayed mind is not push, push, go, go-it's a free flowing walk. Relaxation does not mean lack of concentration."

"If you are going to trust God, you must learn to trust yourself."

"You become what you look at means you become what you discipline your mind to see."

"You never have to wait on God, just get yourself together."

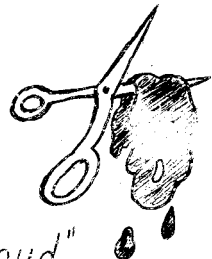

"The Word is the only reason we know anything about God."

"Perfect peace is the only way to take off pressure...that's not a bad thing to get used to...perfect peace."

"God doesn't have a religious bone in His body."

"THINGS, THINGS, Oh, give me THINGS."

Rev. Craig Martindale
