Independence Day, July 4, 1975

We hold these truths to be self-evident--that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the government.

Declaration of Independence.

For most people liberty is just an abstract idea instead of a living reality. You can learn what liberty is--mentally, physically, and spiritually--by applying the principles of liberty set forth in God's Word. This liberty is a reality. We can live liberty.

Rev. Craig Martindale

The Leader's Formula for Liberty

1. Read God's Word every day.
2. Pray for each other every day.
3. Pray for the outreach of the ministry every day.
4. Pray for the spiritual needs of the ministry every day.
5. Do all that we can, verbally and spiritually, for the work of the ministry.
6. Abundantly share the firstfruits of our income with the ministry each week.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The excitement and enthusiasm in the student body is real encouraging to drive ourselves to get the most out of our time. God's opening our hearts and the tenderness and love envelopes us--one body, knit together, all needs being met.

Dave Wahl

I've never seen Jesus Christ as the Lamb of God so clearly. What he is unto us thrills my soul. What a joy to be alive and in love with God's Word.

Allen Hamilton

You never sacrifice your people for a goal.

Rev. John Townsend

Learning is an exciting adventure--
True excitement is expecting to receive.
True adventure is learning to believe.
Learning is an exciting adventure in believing.

Buddy Rix

The summer school teachers have truly poured their hearts, souls, minds, and strength into their teaching this past two weeks. Their efforts of love have firmly cemented some of the greatest knowledge to be found deep into my heart. Time after time they brought the beauty of a particular verse or idea home in a single, simple, beautiful illustration. I have certainly been blessed to have the great privilege of being here and learning from God's best.

Mary Cope

If you want something done exactly they way you would do it, do it yourself.

The person who trims himself to suit everybody whittles himself away.

Following the path of least resistance is what makes men and rivers crooked.

A man never succeeds at anything unless he has fun at it.

Authority is a poor substitute for leadership.

The most valuable gift is a good example.

A good leader is one who can step on your toes without messing up your shine.

Tact is the ability to describe others as they see themselves.
Tact is the art of closing your mouth before somebody else does.

Punctuality is the soul of business.

Howard Allen.

Why do you think He gave us a book this thick if He did not want us to understand it?

I would not have wanted to be in the same cell with Paul when he wrote Ephesians. I'd have been electrocuted!

Rev. Walter Cummins

Take time to smell the daisies!

Emogene Allen

The summer school schedule is providing me with a golden opportunity to bring into-subjection the recalcitrant canine (unruly dog) of my mind. The insidious Sleep Monster has invited in two best friends, Tailbone Tormenter and Mind Muddler. This terrible trinity must be driven from our midst. How? Certainly not by scratching the back of a torporous student. This serves to induce a comatose state. A shot in the ribs is far more effective, and also provides an opportunity for the punchee to renew his mind (Arf! Arf!)

John Lynn

Quiet Seas

If we want to know what to do in any situation, get quiet with God and ask Him what to do instead of allowing our senses to interfere with the walk.

Barbie Hull

I'm seeing that a twig is not a meeting that you pressure people to attend but it's believers getting together because they want to be together and love one another.

Cyndi Brautigam

Headquarters is a paradise home to me. It's where I've been heavenly cuddled all year. I'm now beginning to see how much I've been tenderly watched over by God's people. I just thank God for His Word and for those who are bringing me up to walk and bless mankind.
