God
is Love.
Love is:

- quiet in the midst of turmoil
- trust in God with no thought of self.
- the one altogether lovely, the light in the mother's eyes, the glory in the sacrifice, the quiet assurance of protection.
- the expectation of our Father's promise coming true.
- giving with no thought of getting.
- tenderness enfolding with strength to protect.
- forgiveness without further thought of the thing forgiven.
- understanding of human weakness, with knowledge of the true man shining through.

Living Together

LIVING TOGETHER as a family with the Corps, although a constant nouthetic confrontation, is that beautiful, practical realization of success-- the ever present exciting change of renewing the mind, which is truly life ZOA doctrine, reproof and correction, making us hearty pioneers of the yet unopened, vast frontiers of the more than abundant life in the eternal NOW! So launch out into the deep."

Chris Smith

Kansas

"I really never thought of Kansas as being a land of enchantment. But I've never been more excited about leaving Headquarters. I'm blessed to have the privilege to work with such a great bunch of people. I'm thankful to God for giving me this opportunity to grow in this capacity and to all the Corps for their prayers and believing. As we work to get the Way College ready for the Advanced Class we shall all keep the heartbeat of the Corps as strong as ever. Bless your little pitter-pats

LIVING TOGETHER

"This verse is becoming a living reality for me living together in the units with two other married couples has really been the easiest part of the Corps program for me. It's been beautiful to see how six people can love and give and never get tired of it, the other two couples we live with are closer to me than my own family was."
Ann Simmons

"Living with fellow Corps members is a way to practice making the Word over the world on a smaller scale. It requires cooperation and much love of God in the renewed mind in manifestation."

"Living together with a brother in this God guided Way Corps We never need to bother to ask what we live for."

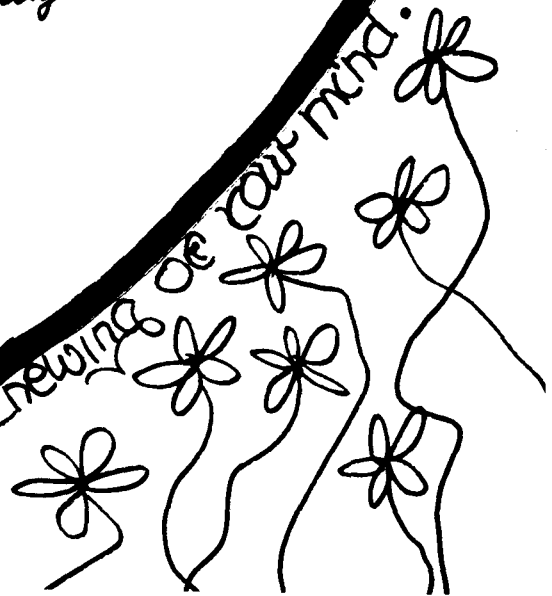

The glory of God is the reason why we live, move and breathe and hold forth at all seasons the sword drawn from its sheath.

Dedication is becoming a way of life as we faithfully practice Ephesians and day-in-day-out find better ways to drive ourselves to the point of obedience.

Loving one another with a fervent heart as we give of ourselves beyond power will handle all pressure and fiery darts and give us the victory every hour."

Letters of Love

I always pray before I start to write my sponsors and call to mind their last letters to Sally and I and what they had communicated to us (I read between the lines).

I have found that writing what is being taught here always meets their needs. This week I am writing all of our sponsors (my half, we exchange each month) about how to beat the adversary and his pressure by "GIVING" and showing them what Craig has shared with us from II Cor. 8. I am also asking them to work with us these next two weeks through prayer in order that we might be effectual wherever we are. We always try to keep them informed about what we are doing and we go into details. Encourage them to work the retemories (I find at times a certain scripture coming into my thinking and I will add it to the letter in a P.S. or on the back of the envelope.

I love our sponsors and I feel that they know this because I write them every month and say more than we are grateful once again for the sponsorship.

Give and you will receive is a law and it can be worked effectually in your letter writing.

Where each lives for the other and all live for God.
Where love germinates in the fertile soil of familiarity.
Where your presence is felt even when you're not there.
Where your best habits will take root first.
