Dear Beloved Believers of Connecticut:

The greatest of all arts is the art of living life. A great principle in living life is developing and maintaining proper attitudes.

The attitude of "What can I get?" stems from fear of losing. The attitude of "What can I give?" stems from confidence in winning. Attitudes are like a great compass. It will always point the direction and chart the course for one's life.

"What can I give? How can I serve? Who can I bless?" are attitudes which always win and set one on the course of freedom. We always have God's love to give. We always have God's Word to serve, and we can always edify another person with loving words and actions. These attitudes and actions will cause great likemindedness among the believers which will result in everyone's joy and rejoicing.

Philippians 2:2-5:

Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus.

As Dr. Wierwille exhorted us at the close of Sound Out '84, let's walk forth with great prayer and love.

In His love,

Steve Strzepek
