CONNECTICUT GRAPEVINE

June 1985

Dearest Believers of Connecticut:

God's abundant blessings to you in the wonderfully precious name of Jesus Christ, our returning lord and savior.

One of the greatest comforts and motivations we have from God's Word is the Hope. The truth of the future return of Jesus Christ, our gathering together with him and the rewards we shall enjoy for all eternity in the presence of the Father is a necessity if we are going to be our best each day.

God wants us to live our lives in light of the Hope. In many situations we are involved in it is the reality of our Hope that gives us the motivation to go on. There will be times in every believer's walk when the Hope seems to be the only logical and satisfying reason to continue to compete in the contest with every ounce of strength and stamina we possess. That is why God has set the Hope as a safe anchorage for our lives.

Hebrews 6:18b,19:

...we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us:
Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the vail.

I'm sure for all of us the great comfort of the Hope has been even bigger in our minds in the last few weeks. Although we will no longer have with us the physical presence of our father in the Word, we still have the rightly divided Word he so lovingly and selflessly taught us by word and by example. The highest tribute that we could pay to the man who taught us the great accuracy of the Word is to live all he has taught us to the glory of God.

We are taking God's Word over the world. That has been and will continue to be our ultimate goal. Each of us is an important part of the greatest ministry the world has seen since the first century. We are the living epistles of the Word. Let's continue to appropriate God's best by believing, to be activated by God's love in manifestation and to be motivated to do our utmost by the living reality of the Hope.

I love you and look forward to seeing you at our Limb meeting on June 30th!

Sincerely,
In His service,

David S. Daniels
